Pacific Sails on Football Sea

By

Evert Peterson '34

Captain Stagg and his stalwart crew have launched the good ship "Pacific" into the waves of the 1933 football season. Weather conditions indicate a stormy voyage. The ports the crew must reach are numerous and nearly all are difficult to touch, requiring delicate manipulation of the controls by the Captain. If this storm is weathered, the Tiger ship is apt to dock at the promised land. The crew is fit and eager and has so far given every indication that our ship will cross the 1933 football sea in good shape.

The University of California Rambler team was defeated in Port Stockton by the score of 3-0. Ham Hamilton, of Patterson, forced the Golden Bears to walk the well known plank. Instead of employing a bloody saber to point out the watery grave, Ham pointed his toe at the goal posts 47 yards away and sent the ball sailing o'er the top mast as if it were a winged creature. Bill Ingram, the California coach, saw the ball speeding, as did his Golden Bears, but all of Navy Bill's teaching and the famed California fight could do naught to deflect the "pig."

The Pirates of Modesto Junior College were all set to sink the Tiger gang, but they forgot that they had to contend with the greatest passer on the Pacific Coast. Tom Wilson gave the Pirates stiff necks when he started heaving the ball around Modesto field. The final score was 26-0 and Pacific had weathered another attack.

Our ship encountered trouble in embarking in the strange port of Portland. The attack of Oregon Normal came before we were properly prepared for battle. After only nine days of practice, it was no surprise to Pacific when Oregon defeated them 12-0 in the Multnomah Stadium. In Sparta, Pacific struck a bad snag. The San Jose Spartans took our Tigers into camp 12-6. The team was defeated by a real football team that was not to be downed on that particular day.

Elton Hamilton, Buddy Goold and Tom Wilson, all backfielders of the present Pacific crew, have distinguished themselves in every game thus far played. Hamilton is outstanding for his kicking but he is also an excellent open field runner, as he proved in the San Jose game by returning a punt fifty yards for a score. He also is an excellent passer, who comes in mighty handy when Tom Wilson is out of the game.

Buddy Goold is the brains of the Tiger backfield. He has been calling the varsity plays for his three consecutive years. He and Hamilton are inseparable as a place kicking team. Buddy knows just how the ball should be held for Ham when he needs three points urgently. Goold is developing into a pass snagger and has been on the end of several of Wilson's bullet passes when they were good for touch downs.

Tom Wilson is rapidly earning the reputation of being the best passer on the Pacific Coast. By repetition of his good work of last season he is becoming known outside the Far Western Conference. He created a sensation recently when he hurled a pass to Buddy Goold in the Modesto Junior College game which was recorded in the books as a sixty-five yard completed pass. Tom is a constant threat to all enemies of the Tigers and may be a source of trouble for St. Mary's on Armistice Day.

Captain Stagg's first mate, Laurence Apitz, is rapidly developing a forward wall which is unsurmountable. Carl Brown and Bill Ijams at the tackle posts are making opponents Tiger conscious. Chris Kjeldsen and Fred Dodge are two fighting guards who are playing bang-up games in the mid-section of the line, where the going is the toughest. George Corson is playing his usual good brand of football at the center position although somewhat handicapped by injuries.

No matter how rough the sea may become or how high the waves may mount, the good ship "Pacific" is a good bet to bring its cargo back to the point of embarkation

The traditional bonfire rally will start Pacific's tenth annual Homecoming on Thursday evening, November 2. This year the rally will be held in the new open air theatre west of the Conservatory. The bonfire will be on the practice field north of the gymnasium. And, while the flames soar into the black sky, students and alumni will sing again "Pacific Hail."

A Homecoming queen, winner of a popularity contest among Pacific co-eds, will be crowned by Governor James Rolph, Jr., at the Student Body Prom Friday evening in Anderson Hall. All alumni are invited to attend.

THE PLAY

"The First Mrs. Fraser," a sparkling comedy of high social life in London, will be presented by the Pacific Little Theater November 3 and 4. It is a play of St. John Ervine that met with outstanding success in both London and New York. It has been widely acclaimed for its abundance of clever lines and brilliant dialogue.

Adelene Young of Sacramento will play the title role. Other principals include Adelene Read, Franklin Wilbur, Noel Schaeffer, William Geery '33, and Yancey Smith.

ALUMNI LUNCHEON

The semi-annual meeting of the Pacific Alumni Association will be held in Social Hall at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Matters pertinent to the welfare and progress of the Association will be discussed. Routine business will be handled also at this meeting.

The Block P Society will present the feature number on the program at the Alumni luncheon November 4 at 11:45 a. m. in Anderson Hall. Coaches Amos Alonzo Stagg, Laurie Apitz and Paul Stagg will be introduced. Other numbers on the program will be presented by student and Alumni talent.

THE GAME

A good football contest is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. that afternoon in Baxter Stadium. Pacific will play the Cal Aggies. Coach Stagg's Tigers are being trained to give Alumni thrills well worth a trip to the campus. Cheers of former students added to those of undergraduates will help toward a winning score.

Sorority and fraternity reunions after the game and the Pacific Little Theatre production will complete Saturday's events. Sunday morning, President Tully C. Knoles will deliver the sermon at Central Methodist Church of Stockton.

Help a worthy student; send $1.00 or more to the Scholarship Fund.

EMENDIA-RHIZOMIA CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARIES

Epsilon Lambda Sigma and Rho Lambda Phi will celebrate their seventy-fifth anniversaries during Homecoming week. The two organizations will jointly observe the occasion on November 1 with an exchange dinner, and on November 2, Rhizomia will hold open house.

Emendia will present to the College as a feature of its celebration, a gift of stone steps to be placed west of the Smith Memorial Gate approaching the path from Circle Drive. After the Cal. Aggie-Pacific game November 4, Epsilon will serve a buffet dinner for students and Alumni members. This will be followed by an historical program in which a number of the Alumni will participate. Jean Humphreys '27 and Martha Pitman '27 are making arrangements. Louise Irey '26 is in charge of the publication of a history of the Sorority.

Rhizomia will also serve dinner at the fraternity house after the game. Following the dinner formal pledging services will be conducted by former presidents of the organization. In charge of Rhizomia plans are: Harold Jacoby '28, Mel Bennett '29, Stanley Lockey '31, Robert Burns '31, Robert Fenix '32, Harold Noble '16, Clarke Briggs '33, George Odell '31, Ralph Stowe '28.

Alumni Scholarships Awarded

Norman Keaton of San Francisco and James Wooten of Stockton are registered at Pacific this semester as a result of the efforts of alumni and because of aid given them from the Alumni Scholarship Fund for Entering Undergraduate Students.

Mr. Keaton did outstanding work in dramatics at Polytechnic High School in San Francisco where he was prominent also in athletics and music. He was director of a news-boys band of a local newspaper.

Mr. Wooten is a graduate of Stockton High School and was selected for his ability in dramatics.

Colgate Graduate Is Y Secretary

Robert Rowe, graduate of Colgate University where he majored in Philosophy, is secretary of the College Y. M. C. A. this term. He is taking graduate work and is a member of Coach Stagg's staff. Mr. Rowe represented his University on the East football team which played in Kezar Stadium, San Francisco, last New Year's day.

"Las Tapatias"

Elena Lindeman x'34, and her two sisters will present "Las Tapatias"—a program of Mexican folk songs and dances, in the College Auditorium at 8:15, November 7. They will be accompanied by a young Spanish guitarist. They are giving recitals in several California cities and are attracting very favorable criticism. General admission will be 50c.

Pacific-U. C. Alumni Meeting

Alumni of Pacific and the University of California held a joint meeting for the first time in the history of the two institutions. It was a dinner honoring Coaches Amos Alonzo Stagg and James Hole preceding the Pacific-U. C. Ramblers football game September 29 on the campus.

Henderson McGee, president of the Pacific Alumni Club of San Joaquin County, presided and introduced Coaches Stagg and Hole. "Pat" Page, former assistant to Coach Stagg and now at Montezuma School for Boys, attended the dinner as a guest of Mr. Stagg and spoke. Other speakers for Pacific were Coach Laurence Apitz, Thomas F. Baxter, president of the Board of Trustees; and Dr. Tully C. Knoles.

Carroll G. Grunsky, president of the U. C. Alumni Club of Stockton, introduced the following from California: W. W. Monohan, graduate manager; Robert Sibley, alumni secretary; Dr. Dewey R. Powell; and "Brick" Morse, sports writer.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of Pacific and California songs.

Subscriptions to the Scholarship Fund are due again.

Alumni Directory

Interest in the Alumni Directory is increasing. Everybody who hears of it recognizes that it will help keep Alumni and former students in closer touch with each other.

Much to our regret, it will be impossible to include all who have attended Pacific. To do so would entail prohibitive expense of tracing, contacting and publishing.

We can publish names, addresses and occupations of all active members of the Alumni Association. You who have already paid dues for this year can make the Directory more complete by urging others to pay.

Your friends will appreciate having their names in the Directory. You may assure them that every paid-up member of the Association will receive a copy free.

Please hand this coupon to another alumnus.
